CANTALOUPES WILL BE ON THE MARKET SOON

First Car Will Arrive From Florida in About Ten Days-Local Crop of Tip-Tops Will Be Small.

In less than two weeks the cantaloupethe most popular of fruits, commission men say-will be on the market. One of the largest houses on Commission row will receive a car of cantaloupes from Florida in ten days. Other consignments likely will arrive about the same time. These melons will be put out to the retail trade at $4 per crate, about fifty melcns. This price will enable the retailers to put them out at 10 to 15 cents apiece. The first cantaloupes received here from Florida will be small, as they will be of the first taken from the vines. As the season progresses the melons will get larger.

The Florida cantaloupe crop this year is said to be large and of the finest quality. The weather in the South this spring has been more favorable to the raising of a first-class crop of cantaloupes than it was last year, and commission men are looking forward to a profitable spring in the handling of Southern cantaloupes. It will be August before there will be many home-grown cantaloupes on the market. Until that time the trade will be supplied from the crop in Florida and other Southern States.

The Osage, or tip-top, cantaloupe, the large mellon with the yellow core-which is raised somewhat extensively in this loeality, will be scarce this year, it is said, on account of the late spring and the scarcity of seeds. This fact probably will cause home-grown cantaloupes to bring a slightly higher price than they sold for
